

CAROLINE ONGLEY

Born 23rd September 1842: Died 1932.

Caroline Ongley and her twin sister were born on the 23rd September 1842, to Lucy and her husband Henry Sarell Ongley. Henry was the Consul in Crete, and was living at Chalepa near Canea (Hania).

When Caroline was sixteen, her father was appointed as Consul to the Morea and was based at Patras in the Peloponnese.

Caroline kept in contact with her cousins in Constantinople, and was present at her aunt Nizza's wedding to James Crawford in 1862.

Caroline would never marry but remained in contact with her diverse family, and after the events of 1875, would be the only person in the family to keep in contact with her brother Charles, apart from one of her nieces.

She died in 1932 in Cyprus where she had lived most of her adult life.
